Foch Wants to Prove to England That Harsh Measure Is Necessary.

PLAN SEIZURE OF MINES

French Confident of American Support of Action to Make Germany Pay.

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris—Grouped about tiers of maps in the war office Thursday, Marshals Foch and Weygand and a score of assistants planned a series of military movements against Germany.

Allied troops will advance again if Germany refuses to observe the reparations provisions of the treaty by May 1.

Foch himself dotted a large scale map of the Ruhr valley with tiny French flags.

Here," he said to allied economic experts who met with the officers, "is where our troops will be stationed. The British will be there," and he indicated tiny Union Jacks on the map.

The plans were completed after the economic experts had reported on what mines, roads and public buildings must be used as centers for the exploitation of the rich mining region if Germany refused to meet allied reparations demands.

Taken To England

Foch's maps were to be backed Thursday for the trip to Hythe in England where an effort will be made to convince the British that harsh action is necessary.

Premier Briand asked for the Hythe conference, hoping to convince Lloyd George that Germany can be brought to her knees by the following program:

- Exploitation of the Ruhr mines by French engineers.
- Laying of a heavy tax on mine production.
- Division of the coal produced among the allies, leaving Germany only enough to meet her actual needs.
- Briand will submit figures to show that the sales of coal to allied and neutral consumers and a tax on all other Ruhr products will yield over three billion gold marks annually.
- The French premier's chief argument will be that refusal to take action will only result in further "quibbling" by the Germans.
- America's recent statements that Germany must pay for her part in the war and Italy's assurance of support will be used by Briand also.

SEEKING RELEASE OF BLAST SUSPECT

By United Press Leased Wire
Scranton, Pa.—Tito Liggio, 27, arrested on suspicion of complicity in the Wall street bomb plot, maintained grim silence Thursday as detectives pined him with questions. His lawyer, John Memolo, Thursday started a fight to free him.

Memolo declared that Liggio be arraigned before U. S. Commissioner George W. Ellis on the charge of evading the draft—the technical charge on which he is being held. The arraignment was to take place Thursday.

Memolo declared the suspicion that Liggio had a hand in the Wall street bombing was ridiculous. He said his client was a hard working coal miner.

Police, however, claimed to have found much anarchistic literature in Liggio's house and also to have discovered in a nearby vacant lot window weights such as were used for slugs in the Wall street bomb.

IDENTITY PICTURES

New York—Photographs of Tito Liggio, held at Scranton, Pa. as a suspect in the Wall street bombing, were shown Thursday to witnesses of the explosion.

"Two persons who claim to have seen the wagon which carried the bomb into Wall street have said they believed the pictures are of the man they saw the day of the explosion," declared Chief William J. Flynn of the department of justice bureau of investigation.

"I am not satisfied with their identifications but I believe there is sufficient possibility to warrant his being held."

SCOFFS AT STORIES OF REVOLT IN MEXICO

By United Press Leased Wire
Dallas, Tex.—"All this noise of revolution in Mexico is coming from enemies of the republic," Eduardo Ruiz, special representative of President Obregon and Mexican consul general at San Francisco, declared here Thursday.

"The reports of the revolution are coming from those who seek to throw things back into the old order of things—exploitation of the Mexican people where personal gain was realized through seizure and lawlessness," Ruiz said.

Ruiz is here seeking to establish committees for the Mexican people to promote better understanding between Mexican workers and those employing them.

Jack Cudahy Slays Himself With Shotgun When Bank Refuses to Make Loan.

By United Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Cal.—"Jack" Cudahy's turbulent career was ended Thursday—he lay dead in his palatial Hollywood home.

John P. Cudahy blew his brains out Wednesday with a shotgun.

Cudahy, the son of the late Michael Cudahy, multi-millionaire packer, had spent his inherited millions and killed himself when he was refused a loan on the "spendthrift's trust fund," held for him by the Northern Trust company of Chicago, according to letters and telegrams found.

For the last decade Cudahy has figured prominently in the spotlight of publicity. In 1899 he started the social world by marrying Edna Cowin, famous beauty.

He returned to his Kansas City home unexpectedly one night ten years ago and found Jere Lillis, wealthy banker, in company with his wife. Cudahy, with the assistance of his chauffeur, mutilated Lillis, who later refused to prosecute.

Cudahy and his beautiful wife were then divorced but remarried again in 1912.

It had been reported recently that he and his wife were again at the parting of the ways. Mrs. Cudahy, however, was in her room at their home when he killed himself and was the first to find his body.

The Cudahys have three children.

FARMERS ASK NEW RAIL CONFERENCE

Delegation at White House Wants President to Take Up Railroad Problem.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—A new plea that President Harding take the railroad problem in his own hands, was laid before him Thursday by a delegation of farmers and congressmen from agricultural states.

Declaring that the very life of the farmer was threatened by present high freight rates, the delegation went to the White House to ask for a conference of labor, capital and representatives of basic industries to thresh out the whole problem.

Harding also received a delegation of railroad brotherhood men headed by J. W. Willis and W. N. Donk. Donk declared their mission had nothing to do with the general railroad problem. Meanwhile Harding, it was learned Thursday, has received reports from cabinet members who have made a study of the railroads which are even more pessimistic than the information carried him by the farmers.

TARIFF DELAY IS PEEVING FARMERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Farmers are growing fretful at emergency tariff bill delays, agricultural representatives here declared Thursday.

Fear was expressed that delays have already undermined the good the bill was expected to do them.

Opponents of the measure were laughing in their sleeves at the slow exchange adjustment and anti-dumping features, which have tied it up, were attacked on purpose as a brake to halt the measure. Protests at the slow action made to Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee, caused him to declare Thursday that the bill will be reported "Saturday or Monday." He admitted, however, that there "is so much uncertainty" over the anti-dumping and American valuations that the senate will almost certainly amend those features.

Mrs. Henry Schuetter returned to her home here after a two weeks' visit with her sons Robert and George in Chicago.

WANTS TO FREE MAIL SERVICE FROM POLITICS

New Plan of Civil Service Appointment Is Sought by Postmaster General.

REVOKE WILSON'S ORDER

Harding and Hays See Plan to Keep Democratic Appointees in Office.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1921

Washington—President Harding today lacking the problem of postmaster service throughout the country, their removal and appointment on a basis that would make for efficiency instead of political manipulation and inefficiency.

Postmaster General Will Hays talked at length with the president about the executive order issued by President Wilson whereby postmasters were placed under civil service rules. There has been much misunderstanding about the Republican desire to revoke that order. It has been called a return to the "spoils" system. Mr. Harding is unwilling to have that meaning attached to the plans of his administration in respect to postmasters. He does mean, however, to see to it that all postmasters shall be appointed on a merit system. Although no definite announcement can be made as yet, it looks as if the administration policy would be somewhat as follows:

First, revocation of the Wilson executive order whereby only one man was eligible for appointment out of a group of applicants who had passed an examination.

Second, substitution of an executive order putting all postmasters under civil service rules and requiring examination, but permitting appointment from any one of the top three on the eligible list.

Make it Permanent

Third, recommendation to congress that legislation be enacted making the system permanent so that every time a new president is elected, the post office system shall not be subject to the whims of executive orders but that the responsibility for change shall lie with congress as a whole.

In support of the Harding plan, the argument is made that many of the postmasters appointed under the Wilson civil service classification without examination and that it isn't fair to permit the Democrats to remain in office without taking their chances in an open examination. It is insisted that both Republicans and Democrats who passed their examinations under the Wilson executive order will not be disturbed. The new arrangement would apply only to postmasters who hold their jobs by political appointment and who never were obliged to pass any examinations.

Of course there are objections to the examination system on the ground that a school teacher could answer the questions asked on an examination paper more readily than most applicants with executive ability and little book learning. But Postmaster General Hays insists that the examinations will cover executive talents and indeed the selection will be based on organizing ability rather than mere book knowledge.

It is probable that Mr. Harding will accept the advice of Will Hays and put all the postmasters under civil service rules and require examinations of all incumbent postmasters who got their jobs through politics.

The new postmaster general also has the full support of Mr. Harding in the plan to humanize the postoffice department. There are many places throughout the country where the conditions under which clerks are working are conducive to bad health. Mr. Hays declares the government should keep peace with progressive employers who are spending large sums of money for social welfare.

All the energy and industry which Will Hays exhibited as chairman of the Republican National campaign seems to have been transfused into the postoffice department. He is alive with new plans and new schemes for efficiency. It will not be his fault if the country before long doesn't find an improvement in the mail service.

TEXANS CLOSE UP SHOP TO CELEBRATE VICTORY

Anyplace in Texas—Thursday, April 21, was almost as great a day in Texas as St. Patrick's day in Ireland.

Eight hundred Texans under General Sam Houston whipped 1,400 Mexicans under General Santa Ana eighty-five years ago.

Thursday all Texas is celebrating San Jacinto day, so called after the site of the battle. Banks and schools are closed.

In the battle of San Jacinto, 630 Mexicans were killed and 730 captured.

GOTHAM SOCIETY WOMAN WILL GO INTO MOVIES

By United Press Leased Wire
New York—Mrs. Lydia Hoyt, regarded as one of the most beautiful women in New York society, has decided to become a motion picture actress, her manager, Benajah Livingston, announced Thursday. Mrs. Hoyt has long been known for her interest in amateur dramatics and pageants. Her decision to become a professional actress is ascribed by her friends to the fact that she is bored by the routine of society life.

Southern Man Appointed U.S. Tax Collector

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—David H. Blair, businessman of Winston Salem, North Carolina, was named commission of internal revenue by President Harding Thursday.

The nomination will be sent to the senate Thursday.

The selection of Blair closes a tense rivalry among several candidates for this post among whom were Edward Clifford, Illinois, and Millard W. West, Kentucky.

Blair is a Republican but has taken little part in politics in North Carolina. He owns extensive business interests in various parts of the state. Claudis H. Huston, Chattanooga businessman, and prominent Tennessee Republican, was nominated Thursday for assistant secretary of commerce. Shortly after election he was mentioned as a possible secretary of commerce.

Charles F. Marvin of the District of Columbia, was reappointed chief of the weather bureau.

40,000 FACING DEATH IN IDLE MINING REGION

Strike Is Called Off But Mines Are Closed Because of Lack of Demand.

By United Press Leased Wire
Birmingham, Ala.—Relief organizations throughout the south were rushing plans Thursday to aid the thousands of men, women and children who are destitute in the Alabama coal fields, following an unsuccessful strike.

Estimates of the destitute range as high as 40,000. Governor Kilby, to whom the Salvation Army and other charitable institutions appealed, was expected to announce plans for systematic relief work.

Brigadier Simmonson, commander of the Dixie division of the Salvation Army, estimated that 18,000 persons are facing starvation and that several thousand of these are already "absolutely destitute."

According to the operators, lack of demand for coal makes it impossible for them to provide work for the miners, who struck several months ago but called off their strike Feb. 22 through an arbitration agreement with settlement of the issues in the hands of the governor.

The latter decided against the miners at every point.

Defeated in the strike, their union food and clothing rations discontinued and unemployment denied them, most of the miners and their families are living in tent colonies, having been turned out of company owned houses. Until April 9 they were furnished regular benefits by the Union Mine Workers of America. Then the union ceased this provision on the ground that the strike had been officially ended several weeks previously.

"I am informed that thousands of miners and their families have become absolutely destitute since their benefits were cut off," Simmonson said.

"We are already supporting some families, although no work on a large scale has yet been done. We have asked the governor to suggest how we can best assist and are ready to cooperate in any way he desires to the full extent of our ability."

BRITAINS DETERMINED TO CARRY ON THEIR FIGHT DESPITE STARVATION THREAT.

London—Striking British coal miners standing alone in their demand for practical nationalization of mines refused Thursday to abandon the issue. When union executives from all parts of the kingdom met here Thursday, a majority were under instruction to continue the fight for a pooling of mining profits and a national wage board.

There was just a hint that the demand for pooling might be altered in some particulars, making it less badly a scheme for nationalization.

Government officers, their attention centered on German reparations, left the miners alone to debate their questions. The gathering was watched with great interest, however.

Despite lack of strike funds, men in the mining districts were firm in their refusal to work. Welsh and Scottish districts, Midlands, Kent and Lancashire returned big majorities for a continuation of nationalization demands. Other unions in those districts voted funds to help the miners' families.

Industries continued to shut down for lack of fuel and municipal officers drew up regulations for the handling of the coal reserve, built up somewhat by shipments from America.

COURT DECIDES AGAINST PEGGY MARSH'S CHILD

Springfield, Ill.—Henry Anthony Marsh, son of Peggy Marsh and Henry Field, will not receive a portion of the Field millions, by a decision of the Illinois supreme court Thursday. The case was appealed from the superior court of Cook county.

The case hinged upon the interpretation of the terms "issue" and "lawful issue" in the will of Marshall Field founder of the Field estate. The will drawn in 1904 specified that his estate should be divided between his grandsons, Marshall Field III and Henry Field and granddaughter, Gwendolyn Field or other "issue" as the term occurs in the tenth paragraph of the will or "lawful issue" as the term occurs in the ninth paragraph.

SENATE PLANS QUICK ACTION ON PEACE PACT

Foreign Relations Committee Takes Up Discussion of Peace Resolution.

GERMANY SENDS FEELER

Agrees to Abide by America's Decision in Reparations Controversy.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—The foreign relations committee Thursday took up Senator Knox's resolution to restore a technical peace between the United States and the central European powers.

When the committee met, there was no indication of any hitch in the administration program, which contemplated an early report on the resolution and its adoption by the senate after a short debate, probably next week. The probable attitude of the Democrats, however, had not been made clear when the committee met.

The resolution as it now stands, repeats the war declaration against Germany of April 6, 1917, and the declaration against Austria. It provides for safeguarding American rights by withholding a settlement with Germany of the alien property now held by this government until Germany has ratified a treaty of peace with the United States and has made arrangement for liquidating all American claims against German nationals. This involves the settlement of all American claims for losses of ships through the U-boat warfare; loss of cargoes; loss of lives and every other loss sustained by Americans as individuals, firms or corporations.

The resolution also reserves to the United States all the rights it would have had under the treaty of Versailles had the senate ratified it.

Germany Sends Feeler

Berlin—Foreign Minister Simons has sent a note to President Harding requesting the United States to mediate the reparations dispute between Germany and the allies.

Germany asked the United States to fix a definite sum for reparations and to secure allied approval of it.

"If this is done, Germany agrees to abide by America's decision and pay the amount fixed."

SEAMANS UNION WILL STRIKE IF PAY IS SLASHED

Government Expected to Take Hand if Employers and Employees Disagree.

New York—American shipping will be completely tied up on May 1, if the owners persist in their efforts to reduce wages, Andrew Furuseth president of the International Seamen's union declared in an interview with the United Press Thursday.

Furuseth, a typical old salt, said the seamen "will not recede one inch" from their present stand and predicted that a strike would involve every member of the union on both coasts and the Great Lakes. There are 110,000 members of whom about 35,000 are now idle because of shipping depression.

Winthrop L. Marvin, president of the American Steamship Owners' association, declared he was confident the seamen would come to terms before expiration of the present wage agreement at the end of this month.

Both sides were willing that the United States government act as intermediary providing they are unable to settle the dispute themselves. Furuseth already is making daily reports to Secretary of Commerce Hoover. Representatives of two government war departments will participate in the conferences of seamen and owners which will be resumed Monday.

NO AUTHORITY TO CUT RAILROAD PAY

Rail Labor Board Denies Right of Employers to Arbitrarily Slash Wages.

Chicago—Railroads or receivers cannot arbitrarily slash wages of employees, the United States railroad labor board decided Thursday.

The ruling was handed down in the case of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railroad which has been pending before the board for several months.

The railroad cut the wages of employees, who protested to the railroad board. While the board was reviewing the case the road went into the hands of a receiver.

The federal court of the northern district of Georgia, however, after appointing receiver, gave permission to slash wages. The board, in its decision Thursday, requested that the court direct the receivers of the road to get together with employees and determine a fair wage, later taking it up with the railroad body.

The board, however, announced it would take no further action in the case until the court either denied or granted the request of a conference. This, the board said, was to prevent a conflict of jurisdiction.

PERSHING COMMANDS "SKELETON" ARMY

Former Commander in Chief Is Assigned to U. S. General Headquarters.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Secretary of War Weeks announced Thursday that General Pershing will be employed in aerial demonstrations designed to convince congress of the necessity for keeping American aeronautics at the highest point of efficiency. It was learned here Thursday. One of the big battles in the present session of congress is expected to be on the question of increasing or curtailing construction of naval aircraft. Both the navy and army are preparing to show congress that the United States must keep abreast of other countries in aerial warfare.

Within the next few weeks the much advertised bombing and gassing of obsolete warships will take place. Then the H-35, a dirigible built in Great Britain for this country, will cross the Atlantic.

The house appropriations committee which Thursday was considering the naval airplanes bill is expected to all practical nothing for new construction. Efforts to amend the bill in this respect may be made on the floor of the house. If they fail, the senate appropriations committee will be asked for funds.

Chicago—District Attorney Charles W. Clyne Thursday ordered a sweeping search for William (Big Bill) Haywood, leader of the I. W. W.

Reports reached Clyne Thursday that Haywood, under sentence of 20 years in federal prison, for violation of the espionage act, had arrived in Riga, Russia, from the United States. Clyne refused to divulge the source of his information.

"According to my advices," Clyne said, "Haywood sailed from the United States several weeks ago on the Oscar II and has arrived in Riga."

Clyne wired every department of justice agent in the nation to start a search for Haywood.

The district attorney believes that someone may have secured a passport for Haywood or that he may have escaped from the country under a fictitious name.

Clyne called several I. W. W. leaders to his office Thursday to find the whereabouts of Haywood but none knew.

Word has been received from Fort Leavenworth, where Haywood was reported to have given himself up Wednesday that "Big Bill" was not there.

Whereabouts Unknown

Otto Christensen, attorney for Haywood, and the 45 other I. W. W. who have been sentenced to serve from one to twenty years for violation of the espionage act, said Thursday he did not know where his client was.

"The last I heard of Haywood was on March 31," said Christensen.

"I had word Thursday from New York that it was rumored there that Haywood had arrived in Riga."

"The news, according to my information which is unofficial, came by wireless from Riga and reported that Haywood had landed there."

John Martin, secretary of the defense council of the I. W. W. here, said he had heard of the report that Haywood was in Russia but knew nothing definite about it.

Martin was one of those questioned by Clyne Thursday. Chicago I. W. W. members are resentful against Haywood, their leader, for his flight, they openly said.

"If Haywood fled to soviet Russia, it was without my counsel," said Christensen.

"He must have received some poor advice from someone."

Act of Cowardice

"The I. W. W. members, depending on Haywood as their leader, will look on Haywood's flight as an act of cowardice."

"By all means the man should have stayed here and fought the battle through. Leaving the nation in the lurch is the biggest fight is nothing more than an act of cowardice."

"You can tell the whole country this local that work will reach soviet Russia to have nothing to do with the man who threw over the industrial workers in America."

Clyne later told the United Press that he received his first information of "Big Bill's" flight from an organization serving radical and labor papers with news of their interest.

Haywood was out on $15,000 bail pending an appeal to the United States Supreme court from the sentence to Leavenworth by Federal Judge Landis. Christensen said that he personally had put up part of the money.

The United States Supreme court recently upheld the decision of Judge Landis, that the I. W. W.'s had to give up their April 25.

Stay Is Refused

Christensen made a final effort to get a stay of execution of sentence last week when he wired Attorney General Daugherty asking for a stay of execution of sentence in order that the men could wind up their personal business affairs before starting their long stretch in jail.

This request was refused in a wire received by the I. W. W. attorney who then sent out word to surrender.

According to the plan they either could surrender at Fort Leavenworth, to the marshal in Chicago or to their local marshals.

Some I. W. W. minority members in Chicago, who would not let their names be used, told the United Press that it was their "impression" that Haywood went to Russia on invitation of leaders of the soviet government to reorganize the names of that country.

They refused further comment.

Reports were all over radical circles in Chicago Thursday that Haywood had gone directly to Moscow after he had landed in Riga.

Christensen later told the United Press that he was the one who gave the information about Haywood's reported escape to District Attorney Clyne.

HOLD UP DRIVER OF TAXI; STEAL MONEY AND AUTO

Police Find Abandoned Car
Early Thursday Morning on Spencer-rd.

DRIVER IS BLINDFOLDED
Neenah Man Is Relieved of $10.
When Bandits Push Revolver in His Back.

Two bandits riding from Neenah to Terrace gardens in a taxicab owned by Neenah Taxi line and driven by William Kane, Neenah, held up and robbed the driver of $10 about midnight Wednesday and then drove away with the machine, leaving Kane wandering about in the country. The machine was found abandoned on Spencer-rd., near the Wisconsin and Northern railroad tracks Thursday morning by Officer T. Prim, chief of Police, and George Albert Delgen.
Krieg responded to a call to the Soo depot at Neenah late in the evening. The two men got into the machine and ordered Krieg to take them to Terrace gardens. Reaching a lonely spot on the Neenah-Appleton road, west of the Fox river and south of the supposed destination, one of the men drew a revolver and ordered Krieg to hold up his hands. The driver's pockets were searched and about $10 taken. Krieg then was blindfolded.

Threat Driver Out
One of the men took the wheel and drove along the road in that vicinity for about half an hour. Krieg was then thrown out of the automobile, which was a Hudson sedan, and the men drove away. The driver could not determine where he was, but after wandering around for about an hour found the Wisconsin Rendering company plant, got his bearings and walked back to Neenah, where he reported the affair to the police.

Immediate search was started in the hope of apprehending the men. Notice of the holding reached the Appleton police department after 3 o'clock in the morning. All of the country roads around Appleton were searched by the Appleton officers, but no trace of the bandits could be found. It is believed that they were too drunk to drive the automobile so abandoned it.

Investigation at Neenah revealed that the two men had attempted to buy tickets for Stevens Point, intending to take the midnight Soo train north. They were in an intoxicated condition, so the Soo sell them tickets. They then telephoned for the taxicab and started for Terrace gardens. A good description of the men was obtained and their movements are being traced.

NEED CREED TO BE A REAL CHRISTIAN

Dr. McCombe to Speak on Greatest Soldier at Patriotic Meeting Tonight.

"Creed is to religion what pillars to an edifice, a support," said Dr. J. C. McCombe in his address on the religious needs of Appleton in Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday evening. Thursday night Dr. McCombe will speak on "The greatest soldier of all times" in connection with the patriotic meeting. Mr. Chase, song leader, will appear in uniform and will lead in singing songs popular with the army in France during the war.

Dr. McCombe said that in worldly affairs practically everything used by humans is subjected to test before it is used and it is just as necessary to test Christianity. He said a real Christian practices what he preaches. The speaker said it is impossible to believe unless one has something to believe. He declared the biggest problem confronting the church is bridging over the gap between the church member's creed and his experiences.

The audience was delighted with the appearance of the large chorus choir seated on the newly built elevated platform. "This was a great improvement in the rendition of the music under the leadership of Mr. Chase. The chapel rang with the beautiful songs 'He that believeth' and 'Brighten some pathway'." The singing is proving a very enjoyable part of the meetings. The chorus choir is rendering much help even at the beginning of the campaign. Mr. Chase is planning a most delightful concert for Saturday night.

Cottage Prayers Meetings
Cottage prayers meetings will be held at 10 o'clock Friday morning in connection with the McCombe-Chase evangelistic party. WANTS ALL WOMEN TO BE INTERESTED IN CHURCH WORK

If Clubs Are Good for Social Life
They Are Good for Churches.
Speaker Says.

"I believe there should be one woman's organization in the church with a number of departments and every woman in one of the departments," said the Rev. E. C. Talmage, superintendent of missions in the Congregational church of Wisconsin in an address before the Wisconsin Women's Home Missionary union Wednesday evening in the Congregational church.

"It is unfair to oneself to be engrossed in either the home or foreign missions. Think of the kingdom. The country of 'good will' has no frontiers.

"We hear and see so much of 'America first'—let us make it America first in service.

"There is one side to missions that has nothing to do with money. If we are going to make missions count we are going to make them count in things that endure. Establish a young people's council to be a board of spiritual education to plan the work, to educate and to oil the wheels of the machinery of the work. Let us have a well defined program to put before our young people, the ageless challenge of Jesus Christ.

"I have known many women who were engrossed in club life and they all were interested in the federation of the city or state clubs. If this is a good thing in our social life, it would be a good thing in our churches. The federation of social and political clubs all our forces of the church."

Dr. H. E. Peabody, pastor of the local church led the devotional service. Music was furnished by the chorus choir which sang two selections with Carl J. Waterman directing. Mr. Waterman as soloist of the evening sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and an aria from the "Nes-sah," "Behold and see if there be any sorrow like unto his sorrow."

Mrs. John Paville, president of the Wisconsin Women's Home Missionary union, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers.

Miss Helen Jones, pastor at Kemper, gave an inspiring talk on "The Northern Lights" telling of the wonderful missionary work that has been done in northern Wisconsin by pioneer women. She told of many remarkable women who kept the churches in existence by the efforts of their own hearts and hands.

John Stevens was a business visitor in Oshkosh Wednesday.

Distress among women and children in Ireland caused by the controversy with the English government is being relieved by the American Red Cross, which has contributed $100,000 out of its national emergency fund, according to word received by the Outagamie Red Cross chapter.

No solicitation will be made by the committee and no contributions will be accepted from chapters. The funds were appropriated in response to an urgent appeal by American citizens and are being disbursed with the consent of the British government.

Sufferings of tens of thousands of Russian refugees who fled from South Russia and Crimea also are being alleviated by the American Red Cross. Sixty carloads of supplies were sent from Paris headquarters to Constantinople, Dalmatia, Bizerte and Serbia recently, including milk, bedding, clothing and medical supplies.

MY FIRST JOB

R. E. CARNCROSS,
Real Estate Broker.

Teaching school was my first job. I was 19 years old at the time and I received a salary of $50 a month. It was a country school and there was not much of interest that I can remember. We had with us a German who attended school to learn the English language. During his spare time he worked on a farm where race horses were trained.

One day the German boy created quite a disturbance, and I discovered that he had seated himself in a seat, where a bent pin had previously been placed by some mischievous boy. This German lad was man grown while all the other pupils were small. He made rapid progress in the new language but I do not know what became of him after he left school.

THE BOOK OF MARTHA

The Universal Sisterhood

"Such colossal selfishness!" I exclaimed.
"That's the secret of such escapades," Martha answered.
"I don't understand it at all!" I said.
"Neither do I. But I wish I could give the plain facts to vain girls who are tempted by married men. We can exalt love in the poetical fashion of the time; and acknowledge that lots of marriages are failures; and that a few husbands and wives would be better off apart; we can swallow all the 1921 theories about the power of the emotions in making or ruin human beings; and still, if we have an atom of sense, we must agree that the man who fools his wife will fool her rival, and each one of her rival's successors!"
"The girl who trusts such a man most, loses most."
"Always. Why, my husband swore upon my heart, 'That girl means nothing whatever to me! I never want to see her again!'"
"As if what he desired were the only consideration."
"Exactly! I explained to him that the affair had gone past the point where win he wanted had any weight with me. He said he could end it all in half a minute by mailing the girl a check for a few hundred dollars!"
"Martha! He would have shirked his responsibility in that easy way? Just think what it costs to raise a child! How can a sane man consider his own child, blood of his blood, of so little consequence? It's almost unbelievable!"

"Oh, no! We can believe almost anything about the man who carries on two love affairs at the same time. By husband dared to assume that I, the wife, ought to be satisfied if he abandoned the young woman!"
"He held to the old morality," I asserted. "Thank all the gods that be, a new morality has arrived, and not one so comfortable and convenient for the selfish sinners. The modern wife has acquired, along with sophistication, a tremendous sympathy for the other woman!"
"Maternity makes friends of all mothers, rich and poor, clever and ignorant, good and bad," Martha agreed. "It's a kind of universal sisterhood which has spread round the world. Joining the movement is as simple as silent prayer. One merely resolves to be one's utmost for all mothers everywhere."
"Men don't recognize this league of women yet," I averred.
"A few do. The others insist that women are rivals before marriage and enemies afterward. Perhaps we used to be. I told my husband that I would see that Marion Sprague had every care—and that he received all of the bills."
"My goodness! How did he take that?"
"His feelings were injured! He thought I ought to have been madly jealous, that I somehow owed it to plan revenge upon Marion Sprague—but not upon himself!"

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

"Lumpy Lion Is Cured."

By Olive Roberts Barton.

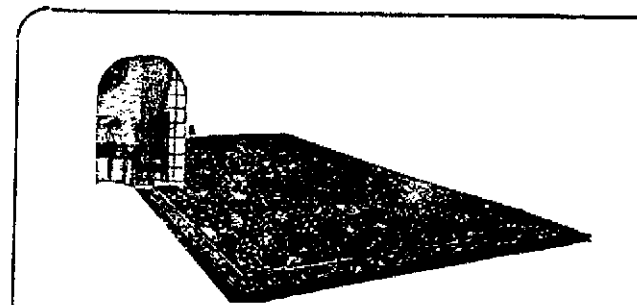

Lumpy Lion held his mouth wide open while Flippety-Flap, the fairman, and Nancy and Nick (small as green peas) hopped in and looked for the aching tooth. They found it at once because it had a great hole in it. No wonder it was aching! Isn't it queer that the less there is of a tooth, the bigger the pain usually is!

Flippety-Flap put the bottle back into his shoe. "It's not for sale, sir. I got it from Dr. Jones, the circus dentist, and he won't let me sell it." "Too bad!" sighed Mr. Lion yawning. "But think just the same. Now, Lily, let's try and get some sleep. Good night, sir! Good night, ma'am! Good night, other sir!" And Mr. Lion ambled off to his bed of soft rocks on the hard sand—no soft sand, near the hard rocks.
But Mrs. Lion stayed a minute. "I'm so anxious to reach Lumpy and Lily some circus trucks," said she, "Would you, by any chance, know where I could get a seersucker? Or a ladder with steps on both sides? Or a large ball? Or some chairs to jump over? Or a hoop? Or a—"

COUNCIL AWARDS CONTRACTS FOR STREET PAVING

Several Miles of Pavement to Be Built This Year—Demand New Firehouse.

The contract for paving Water-st. from Pearl to lot 3, replat No. 10; Morrison-st. from Lawrence to Pacific-st.; Pacific-st. from Appleton to Superior-st.; Superior-st. from Pacific to Perry-st.; Lawrence-st. from Morrison to Oneida-st.; Carver-st. from Mason-st. to Northwestern Railroad crossing; Second-st. from Locust to Mason-st.; and College-ave. from Story to Outagamie-st. with asphalt was let to Western Improvement Co.

of Milwaukee at the meeting of the common council Wednesday evening. The paving of Appleton-st. from Lawrence to Prospect-st. with concrete was ordered. The bid for asphalt was $3.96 per square yard and $1.65 per foot and letting the contracts was 8 to 3.

The paving program took up almost the entire session. A large number of property owners of the streets to be paved were present and were given an opportunity to be heard. Practically all in favor of the work being done this summer preferred asphalt to concrete. Several urged that the work be put over until the price of material became more reasonable. Regarding the paving of Second-st., A. K. Ellis, general manager of the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat & Power Co., said his company recognized the fact that it ought to be paved but said his company was not financially situated at present to do its share of the work.

Too Much Expense
"If the work is done at this time," said Mr. Ellis, "it will be necessary for the city to finance it and the company will reimburse it later. Our new securities will be placed on the market within the next 30 days and the first money derived from their sale in Appleton will be diverted to the proposed pavement. D. H. Pierce, representing the Humphrey Pierce estate, which has to stand a large share of the burden of paving Second-st., was in favor of having the street paved but not at this time on account of the heavy expense it would incur. Several other taxpayers who own property abutting the street also entered a protest. M. F. Barreau recommended that the block on Morrison-st. between Kimball and Lawrence-st. be paved at the time the other portion of the street is improved. He assured the council that the fact that it was not on the paving program was an oversight of the property owners.

May Get County Aid
The situation on Carver-st. is similar to that which existed on Foster-st. at the time it was paved several years ago and it is possible that a portion of the expense will be borne by the county, state road and bridge committee. A resolution was passed authorizing the mayor to appoint a committee of seven members of which the mayor was to be chairman to consult with the county board at their session next week. The advisability of the mayor going outside of the council in making his appointments was discussed and was quite generally favored. The appointment of the committee was taken under advisement by the mayor.

While the pavement matter was under consideration Alderman Mayer said there were certain things about it that ought to be taken up in committee of the whole and made a motion that the council resolve itself into such committee to consider them which was passed. This action did not meet with the approval of the taxpayers present, who through their spokesman August H. Meyer, said they had been invited to attend the meeting and were entitled to hear everything that concerned it. Upon suggestion of one of the aldermen the committee of the whole convened in the council rooms with Alderman Wood in the chair. Alderman Mayer said when the committee was called to order that he had been informed on certain matters concerning sewers on the streets to be paved that he had nothing further to bring before it. Earlier in the meeting it was brought out that some of the sewers of the streets to be paved had backed water and there was a question as to whether they were adequate or whether they ought to be replaced. An obstruction to one sewer that had backed water had been removed and no further trouble is anticipated from that source.

New Engine House.
The matter of building an engine house in the Fourth ward was brought up by Alderman Murphy, who said it was time that something was being done to furnish better fire protection to that part of the city. No action was taken, however, as it was deemed advisable to await the action of the legislature in regard to the two platoon bill now before it.

The Ladies of St. Matthew Church will hold a cake sale at Behnke & Jense's Store Friday afternoon, April 22.

Julius Wait was awarded the contract for building a new sewer on Tonka-st. The First National bank was designated as depository for city funds. The ordinance committee recommended the passage of the ordinance relating to appointment of a board of park commissioners, but action upon it was deferred until the next meeting. The petition for placing a gasoline pump on Lake-st. was turned down. Saymour-st. is to be improved with curbs. The committee on streets and bridges made several recommendations among which was the removal of all signs and display counters more than three feet from the property. The streets recommended for flushing which consist almost exclusively of those paved were announced. A petition for permission to hold open air dances on College-ave. and Washington-st., presented by Slecker Bros., was referred to the license committee. Bills amounting to $4,674 were allowed.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body. With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system. He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Schlitz Bros. company; Voigt's Drug Store, Union Pharmacy have been appointed agents for Allen in this vicinity with the understanding that the will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who state they received no benefit.

INVITE LOCAL MEN TO C. OF C. EVENT

Invitations Received Here for Meeting of National Chamber of Commerce.

Eight Appleton manufacturers or firms have been invited to attend the business convention of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Atlantic City April 27 to 29. Invitations have been sent direct, but no definite plans have been made for representation here. The Appleton Chamber of Commerce has named no delegate.

The invitations were addressed to Charles S. Boyd, president Appleton Coated Paper company; F. J. Harwood, Appleton Woolen mill; W. W. Notlage, secretary-manager, Fox River Valley Knitting company; C. W. Jones, Lumber company; Judson G. Rosebush, president Patten Paper company; S. A. Whedon, secretary-treasurer Tuttle Press company; G. E. Buchanan, treasurer Appleton Wire Works, and Reliance Motor Truck company.

Some of the most vital problems facing business houses today will be taken up at the gathering, many of which have to do with the lowering of the cost of living. A study of methods will be made by which there can be closer cooperation between the government and business, and a more economical administration of government affairs. The theme is: "In the public interest—more business methods in the government; less government management of business."

Group conferences are to be arranged so each line of business may take up its peculiar study in addition to the subjects of general importance. The railroad group will discuss proposed plans for reducing cost and increasing efficiency of railroad transportation. A railroad executive, large shipper, a leading banker and an eminent engineer will be the speakers. Many other topics under a dozen headings or departments are to be considered in the 3-day session. It will be one of the largest and most important gatherings of business men ever held, with a situation confronting them such as has never been known in history. Representatives will attend for 1,400 commercial organizations.

MEMORIAL DAY ANNUAL RECEIVED BY SCHOOLS

Schools of Outagamie-co. have received the 1921 issue of the Wisconsin Memorial Day Annual. This booklet commemorating the heroes of this country's wars has been published since 1896 and is looked forward to each year by the school children, who use the material in it for their exercises.

This year the cover design is a battle scarred flag blowing in the wind. There are patriotic poems, stories, pictures and historical facts of great interest. Most of the schools in the county, following their annual custom, are preparing attractive programs from the material provided.

Why Grow Old Before Your Time?

It isn't years alone that make one old. Many folks are younger at 70 than others are at 50. Business Better In Old Days, Locktender Says

No Change in Locktenders on the Fox River This Season.

There are no changes in locktenders on Fox river this season so far as is known. These employees who are among the most faithful in the federal service usually have a life tenure on their position or remain in service until they reach the age limit of 70 years.

Charles DeYoung, who has had charge of the fourth lock in Appleton for the last 27 years is one of the oldest locktenders of the city both in age and point of service. He is now 67 years old and has only three more years to serve.

Mr. DeYoung has been familiar with the river all his life and was well acquainted with the first locktenders and with the first captains that plied Fox river. Alex. Grignon, John Vanderlinden, John West, Peter Louis and Robert Allison were among the original locktenders. The oldest lock-tenders still on duty, in point of service, are John Paetz of DePere, 37 years, and George Allison of Menasha, son of Robert Allison, whom he succeeded, 35 years.

Herman Hicks of Oshkosh is the oldest river captain still alive. He is 84 years old and was captain of the Carter for 27 years. He is still familiar with every foot of the river and made a trip up from Green Bay as late as last summer. Among the other early captains was Capt. Martell, who died at his home in Green Bay within the last few weeks.

Mr. DeYoung said there was a great deal more freight shipped by boat in early days than now. A quarter of a century ago pulpwood was shipped direct to Appleton mills from Menominee, Mich., and boats were daily handling freight between Green Bay, Kaukauna, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh and Fond du Lac. Excursion business was also heavy in early days. Mr. DeYoung having opened the lock for 27 in a single month.

ASK FOR TARIFF ON EGG IMPORTS

American Poultry Industry Endangered by Competition in Orient.

That there is a need for a protective tariff on eggs, egg products and poultry is declared in a bulletin sent to the Fox River Poultry and Poultry Stock association by the American Poultry association and which was presented to the ways and means committee of the house of representatives. Poultry industry is one of America's most important agricultural enterprises, the bulletin says.

It is pointed out that the future of the industry is threatened by Oriental competition. In the past the principal imports have been frozen and dried eggs, but recent developments in shipping facilities make it possible to import shell eggs in unlimited quantities under refrigeration at low freight rates. One shipment recently arriving in New York consisted of 6,000 tons of eggs and egg products.

Transportation rates from the orient to the United States are less than freight rates from principal producing centers to New York markets. Eggs produced in China from scavenger hens are sold in principal Chinese markets at prices ranging from 4 to 6 cents a dozen in normal times and at prices ranging from 6 to 12 in abnormal times.

Tariff rates recommended by the American Poultry association in the bulletin are based on the differences in cost of production at home and abroad, using normal conditions in calculations.

Trains in the United States are about four times as heavy as those in Great Britain.

5-YEAR HEALTH STUDY PLANNED

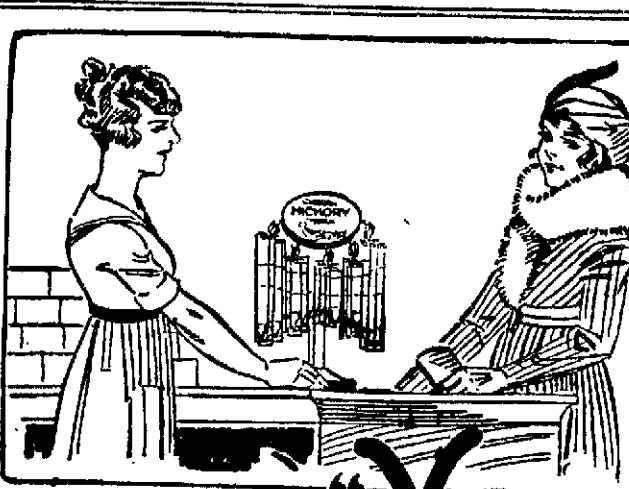

Plans are under way for a child health demonstration of a unique character by the National Child Health council. Details have been received by the Outagamie Red Cross chapter, because the national Red Cross body is one of six national health bodies which will take part.

Some community of 20,000 or 30,000 population and the surrounding county will be helped to secure nearly as possible ideal conditions for development of its children from babyhood to adolescence, into sturdy, happy, useful citizens. The demonstration will be carried over a period of five years.

Appleton has most of the qualifications of the kind of community required, but it is not known whether this city is under consideration. The cooperating agencies are the American Red Cross, American Child Hygiene organization, Child Health Organization of America, National Child Labor committee, National Organization for Public Health Nursing, and the National Tuberculosis association.

ELKS SEE FRANCE BEFORE AND AFTER WAR IN PICTURES

Father Campbell Gives Interesting Lecture on Devastated Lands in War Zone.

Elk members with their families and friends were given an interesting travel talk by the Rev. Father Campbell, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, who talked on the devastated regions of France and Belgium, in the auditorium of the club house Wednesday night. The address was followed by stereopticon slides showing the cities as they were before the war and the ruins of the same cities after they were shelled. The Rev. Father Campbell toured the devastated regions three months last fall and also visited Switzerland. Many Americans have the wrong impression of the feeling of the French people toward the Americans, according to Father Campbell. There is no hatred against the Americans, for they respect them, and courtesy reigns supreme in that country. In his tour Father Campbell learned that time is not the destroyer but it is man. He stated that nowhere in this world has time destroyed things made by man as they were destroyed in this warfare. The fine arts, painting, sculpture and wonderful architecture can never be replaced by money. Belgians are rebuilding their cities more quickly than any other people. Their condition is such that they cannot leave the ruined cities and locate in another section for they need every foot of space and they must clear away the ruins and erect new buildings and homes on the same sites. Many of the cities in Belgium are completely destroyed and beautiful orchards have been mowed down. France, noted for its fertility before the war, now is black. Love and gratitude is plentiful there and particularly toward the Americans. Paris, a city of gaiety, shows the reaction of war in its quietness for there is not a home in that city that has not lost a member in the war. Bridges, the beautiful city of bridges, was shown in a number of stereopticon slides. Mont Kemmel was seen in all its loveliness before the war and its total ruin after the attack. Ypres, with its magnificent churches, also was shown followed by pictures of the total destruction of these same churches. A more pathetic scene could not have been shown than that of the 2,750 white crosses in the American cemetery in France marking the graves of a few American soldiers who gave their lives in the World War. Unburied on high over these graves is the American flag. This travel talk is the first venture of the entertainment committee this season.

Fishing Season Almost Here; Sportsmen Ready

Demand for Baits and Supplies Is Increasing—Prices Slightly Lower.

That almost irresistible call of Nature to go fishing has gripped at the heart strings of many a sportsman who is eagerly looking forward to the opening of the trout season May 1. The demand for fishing tackle at local stores proves that sportsmen are getting prepared and interest in this season has not fallen off.

The barefoot lad who a few years ago was content to sit most of the day on the river bank fishing with an ordinary hook and line and a cheap artificial bait for his sport. Dealers, anticipating this, have put in elaborate stocks and it takes a strong-willed sportsman to go past a hardware store these days without acquiring at least a few of the flies and baits temptingly displayed.

A. Galpin and Sons Hardware company is not only handling artificial bait but also has live bait. The prices of fishing supplies, according to G. L. Galpin, have not varied much from last year. In some cases the prices of bait are lower.

"The greatest interest in fishing supplies," Mr. Galpin said, "is centered on the newer lines of bait. There are varieties of bait for every kind of fish. There is the under-water minnow, the panetella minnow, the combination minnow and many other classes. The demand for fishing supplies is gradually increasing as the opening of the season is near."

A hobby is a necessity with a business man as it provides a means to forget the worries of work. That the hobby of many business men here is fishing is evident from display at the Schiefer hardware store.

Casting seems to be the favorite sport among the fishermen, and, according to W. D. Schiefer, there is a greater demand for rods and reels this season than last. With a few running reel, a light silk line, a light flexible rod and the proper bait the sportsman can hardly wait until he can leave the store with his new outfit and let someone else in on his plans. Mr. Schiefer said.

At the Tech hardware store the line of fishing goods is not extremely large but it is complete. "Fishing supplies are not higher in price than last season," stated William Tech, "and the demand has shown an improvement."

The season for pike, pickerel, muskellunge, catfish and sunfish opens June 1 and lasts until March 1, with 23.16 pounds of butter from a milk flow of 71.5 pounds a day. The Sassman cow in her prime at 5 years 9 months produced 29.99 pounds of butter, or an average daily milk production of 95.5 pounds.

No decision will be made until May 15, when all records will be submitted to expert judges who are to pick the best producers. Age is one of the first considerations. The best records will be sent to R. T. Harris, college of agriculture, Madison, for filing.

Special Canvass
The Prudential Life Insurance Co. of which H. E. Kretschman is local manager, is conducting a special canvass this week which will close Friday night. Among those assisting in the work are L. A. Fredericks, Fond du Lac; G. W. Boisenstein, Sheboygan; J. J. Getry, Green Bay; William DeMarsh, Marinette; John DeYoung, Oshkosh, all assistant managers of their respective cities. These campaigns are usually put on once or twice a year in each city.

Mr. Paltzer tested a Holstein cow 10 1/2 years old in February and found that she produced 26.54 pounds of butter out of a weekly production of 565.1 pounds of milk. This record approximates the best, considering the age of the animal.

Mr. Mossholder's 7-year old Holstein showed a large production because of being at a more advantageous milk giving age. She produced 27.99 pounds of butter in a 7-day test from an average daily milk flow of 91.2 pounds a day.

Both tests were highly pleasing in results to the owners of the cows. These were the first ever conducted and provided keen competition.

In the professional class among breeders who have tested their animals continuously three records stand out.

John P. Laux, town of Grand Chute, had things all his way until about two weeks ago, when cows owned by Walter Wieckert, town of Center, and George Sassman and sons, Black Creek, began making a strong bid for places.

The Laux Holstein, 2 years and 3 months old, tested 25.79 pounds of butter in February, from a milk flow of 86.6 pounds a day. Farmers admire this record, for it is unusual for a cow only three years old.

CONTEST REVEALS MANY BIG MILKERS

Competition Is Keen in Effort to Win Bank Trophy for High Milk Records.

Already farmers are speculating among themselves as to who will win the two silver trophy cups offered by the First National bank to the dairy men with the best production records up to May 15. The contest has been especially interesting to the amateur group, who never made tests before, and are discovering not only that their cows are real producers, but that tests have many possibilities. Two surprisingly good records have been made in the amateur class. In 7-day tests, one by Nicholas Paltzer, and the other by Otto Mossholder, both of the town of Grand Chute.

MUST LABEL SEALED SACKS OF POTATOES

Potatoes offered for sale in sacks sewed shut must be tagged to indicate their grade, according to a ruling of the Wisconsin division of markets. They may be sold in the old way without specifying the grade if in baskets or in bags tied shut so inspection is easy, but otherwise the labeling rule must apply.

These requirements are defined in what is known as bulletin No. 2 of the division of markets. The brands are defined by the division. This rule also applies to selling of honey, syrup and other products the farmer may sell direct to consumers.

PASSOVER TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Jewish Families Will Hold Festivities Honoring Freedom of Their People.

Jewish congregations of Appleton are preparing to observe the annual Passover, or feast of unleavened bread, commencing Friday evening and continuing through Friday, April 29. Special services are to be held in Temple Zion and Moses Montefiore synagogue Friday evening and Saturday morning in honor of the anniversary. The festival of Passover, called in Hebrew "Pesach," dates back to the days of wondrous deliverance of the Hebrews from the Egyptian yoke. Reform Jews observe it for seven days, and Orthodox for eight. It is emblematic of the trust in the "Keeper of Israel" who sustained the Jews during their severest hardships and is a symbol of liberty to all mankind.

The feast is ushered in with a home ceremony, the "Seder," held on the eve of Passover. The ritual includes the reading of a richly adorned tale of deliverance, "The Hagadah," wherein events leading up to the exodus and immediately following are told.

EGGERT PURCHASES HOTEL PROPERTY

William J. Eggert has purchased Eggert hotel on Appleton-st. from George Walter Brewery Co. for a private consideration. The deal was closed Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Eggert has been proprietor of the hotel for eight years and will continue to cater to farmers and laboring people. The building will be given a thorough renovation at once. The hotel is one of the oldest in the city and for a great many years was known as the Crescent House. It is one of the few farmer hotels still in existence here.

CHARGE HOUSE OF DAVID CULT HEAD FORCED MARRIAGES

Practices of Strange Michigan Sett to Be Revealed in Court.

Special to Post-Crescent
Chicago—"I will choose seven virgins, who shall live under one roof as in secret until a conspiracy is brought against me, which shall bring it into court."

So prophesied Holy Benjamin Purnell in his book, "The Star of Bethlehem," which outlines the beliefs of the long-haired religious cult of the House of David at Benton Harbor, Mich.

The prophecy will be fulfilled in Chicago April 18, when charges will be made against him in the suit of Mrs. Hilda Hannel for the annulment of her marriage to Russell L. Hannel, into which she says Purnell forced her.

Mrs. Isabella Pritchard mother of Hilda Hannel, expects to testify in court concerning her own connection with the cult.

From Australia
Fifteen years ago Mrs. Pritchard became a convert and left her home in Melbourne, Australia, with her two daughters, Hilda and Rena, then 12 and 14, to enter the colony.

Mrs. Pritchard says that she pooled all her possessions with the head of the House of David, because the colony is cooperative.

Thereafter, she says, she and her daughters endured many hardships until finally they fled.

In the colony, Mrs. Pritchard alleges she and her daughters were subjected to arduous toil and scanty clothing.

Purnell she says, who calls himself "A Second Gabriel," rules the colony punishing those who disobey his commands.

In David's House
According to the three women, children growing up in the colony are graduated from various duties to the House of David. There is, Mrs. Pritchard said, great rejoicing when the sixteen-year-old girls go there.

But she alleges Holy Benjamin swore the girls to secrecy so that no word should escape as to what took place within.

There were some 50 or 60 girls at the House of David, said Mrs. Pritchard.

My girls thought that I approved of anything that Holy Benjamin did, but I did not know what was taking place at his house.

When Benjamin was warned that officials were to make investigations some girls were immediately married off to men they hadn't even spoken to.

Mrs. Pritchard left the colony in September, 1919, with her daughters Rena's husband also came with them, but Hilda's husband remained.

Hilda states that she never lived with Hannel as his wife, for men and women have separate quarters in the colony, and it is because of this that she hopes to win an annulment.

Whether Hannel will contest the suit is in doubt. However, every charge made against Purnell and his associates is denied in full at the colony.

UNIONIZATION OF STEEL MEN DELAYED

Unemployment and Depression Interferes With Union's Plans.

Special to Post-Crescent
Washington.—Unemployment and slack conditions in industry probably will delay the scheduled campaign for the organization of the steel industry, according to William Hannon of the International Machinists' Union.

Hannon is secretary of the special committee appointed last January by the American Federation of Labor to organize steel workers.

"With the steel mills working only to about 40 per cent of capacity and with unemployment general throughout the country, the present is not a good time to press new organization work," Hannon said.

"However, there are some members of the council who believe we should proceed at once with at least a campaign of education among steel workers. Just the program to be followed will be determined at the meeting of the executive council April 15."

"The educational campaign is made more desirable from the fact that certain radical groups, like the I. W. W., make their greatest headway during the periods of unemployment. Their appeal is to the discontented and the jobless, and in certain sections they are busy in organization work today."

Labor leaders see in a statement credited to E. H. Gary, head of the Steel Corporation, that the 12-hour day is to be abolished in the steel mills a first step toward easing the conditions of employment scathingly denounced last year in the report of the Interchurch World Movement.

To date, however, A. F. of L. officials say they have been unable to confirm whether or not any order putting Gary's promise into effect has been issued.

The whole program of labor organization Hannon says, is complicated by the industrial condition in this country due to failure of the allies to settle the reparation issue with Germany. Until that is settled, he says, labor is up against as hard a problem of existence as are the industries involved.

Rotary Directors Meet
Directors of the Rotary club will outline their year's work at a meeting at Hotel Appleton Friday evening which will be preceded by a dinner.

Woman Charges Husband With Brutality While in Religious Frenzy.

Special to Post-Crescent
Chicago—Farmers in an isolated district of the Dakota prairies have a cult whose rites are as startling as the most bizarre of mystic cults in the cities, says Mrs. Florence Bratzberg in a bill of divorce filed here.

According to her allegations, some of the tenets of the order to which her husband belongs are:

Wives must be beaten at regular intervals.

The eyes of wives must be puffed and blackened by blows so that they will not be attractive to other men.

tage ham it is really an inexpensive delicacy. The slices should be cut about half an inch thick for broiling.

Spinach Salad
Two cups cold cooked and chopped spinach, 4 hard boiled eggs, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, mayonnaise.

Chop whites of eggs. Mix spinach, chopped egg whites, lemon juice and mayonnaise and mold in balls. Put yolks of eggs through ricer over spinach balls. Serve on lettuce.

Piquant Carrots
One bunch carrots, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 cup milk, 1 egg yolk, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, 1 tablespoon lemon juice salt and pepper.

New carrots known as "thinners" are especially nice prepared this way. If the carrots are very small use whole, if not, wash, scrape and cut in quarters. Cook in boiling salted water till tender. Drain. Melt butter, add milk, stir in egg yolk beaten with lemon juice and cook until the sauce thickens. Do not let boil. Add parsley, salt and pepper and pour over carrots to serve.

Husbands must leave their wives for long periods so that their love will not die of monotony.

Mrs. Bratzberg said she had never heard the name of the cult but that its membership included many farmers.

The cult adherents she said, beat their wives and spent long periods away from home.

Mrs. Bratzberg charges that when her husband worked himself into a religious frenzy he "mercilessly beat, choked and bruised" her.

They were married in July, 1918. According to Mrs. Bratzberg, her husband left her on his "period of abstinence" less than a year after the marriage.

In the husband's absence his friends deny the charges.

CUPID DESERTS 2 CHILD MARRIAGES

Sociologists Trying to Figure Out Love Vagaries in Baby Weddings.

Special to Post-Crescent

Portland, Ore.—Wise, old sociologists are trying to find out why Romance fled from the lives of Homer and Lucille Ross, both 16, after it had touched them at play and led them to the marriage altar.

In addition to being sued for divorce, the boy-husband, still in knee pants, is in jail while juvenile authorities investigate the charges of Wilbur Ford, another boy-husband, who alleges young Ross alienated the affections of his wife, Thekla, 17.

He charges that Ross took his wife to the movies and parties while he sat at home and Mrs. Ross waited patiently in her one room apartment.

While sociologists puzzle over the "baby triangle," as they call it, Lucille is at home helping mother do the dishes and make the beds.

"We were married in January, 1920," Mrs. Ross relates. "I met Homer at a church social. He was such a nice-looking boy that I liked him right away."

"In three days we were in love and he asked me to marry him. He went away for a month while we thought it over and when he returned my answer was 'yes.'"

"We rented a one-room apartment and started housekeeping but Homer couldn't earn enough money to pay expenses. Mamma and papa took care of the grocery and gas bill."

"Homer wanted to go out at night. He played with other boys and went to dances. He said he didn't like a girl like me who couldn't dance."

"I tried to be brave while waiting in the room late at night, but I was

Pottsville, Pa.—"I suffered with female trouble for four or five years and was very irregular. I was not fit to do my work at times and took medicine from a doctor and got no benefit. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and took it and got all right. I gained twenty pounds or more and am now able to do my work. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to my friends and you may use these facts as a testimonial."

Mrs. SALUD SIEBERT, 513 W. Fourth Street, Pottsville, Pa.

The everyday life of many housewives is a continual struggle with weakness and pain. There is nothing more wearing than the ceaseless round of household duties and they become doubly hard when some female trouble makes every bone and muscle ache, and nerves all on edge.

If you are one of these women do not suffer for four or five years as Mrs. Siebert did, but profit by her experience and be restored to health.

HILL CLOSES SEASON WITH WIN OVER ALI HASSAN

HUGE TURK LOSES TWO FALLS AFTER FIERCE STRUGGLE

Substitute for Mahmoud Gives Local Wrestler an Interesting Argument.

Several hundred wrestling fans who demanded back the money paid for tickets to the Mahmoud-Hill match because Mahmoud was ill and unable to fill his engagement, should be kicked in themselves today. They missed one of the best matches of the season when Ali Hassan who is about as terrible a Turk as Mahmoud, grappled with the local favorite in Armory G. Hassan lost two falls to Hill but he gave the Badger champion a great argument and the fans plenty of exciting moments. The Turk outwrestled Hill by 25 pounds. Between three and four hundred persons saw the bouts.

Hill won the first fall in 37 minutes and 32 seconds with a headlock and the bar arm and the second in 13 minutes and 25 seconds with an arm scissor and wristlock. This may sound like an easy victory for the local man but in reality Hill was in several precarious predicaments and it was only his speed and cleverness which saved him from defeat on more than one occasion.

The first fall came within less than a minute after Hill had broken out of a punishing body hold. Hassan caught Hill near the ropes and began squeezing his body with his powerful arms. Hill evidently was in pain and squirmed for more than three minutes before he finally broke loose. In breaking the hold he turned the Turk over on his back and the next second he had clamped on a headlock and bar arm which held the big man helpless. It was a thrilling finish to an interesting bout.

Learns Secret Of Control

Cleveland—Walter "Duster" Mails as shooting them down the alley with an overhand delivery this spring. It's the secret of his southpaw control.

Mails discovered he wasn't a side arm pitcher shortly before he came up to the Cleveland Indians last fall and made American League batters dizzy with his controlled smoke balls.

"Forest Cady, old Red Sox catcher, who was working with me at Sacramento, gave me the tip on myself that started me up."

"When I got wild Cady made me pitch from over my head."

"I could put the ball where I wanted it then."

"In Cleveland Steve O'Neill noticed the same flaw in my delivery."

O'Neill's help.

"O'Neill advised me to pitch overhanded all the time."

"Occasionally I'd get wild. I didn't know what was the trouble."

"Then O'Neill would remind me that I was shipping back into my old side-arm delivery."

"I'd watch myself."

"My control came back with the overhand pitch."

"I would never have won seven games for Cleveland and one from Brooklyn in the world series if O'Neill hadn't made me correct my fault."

"I've wasted several years of my pitching career already because I didn't know what was the matter with me."

Same Old Stuff

"I haven't any more stuff now than I had several years ago."

"How'll I pitch to Babe Ruth this year?"

"Just like I would to any other batter."

"All these big leaguers can belt the ball. Ruth don't worry me."

"Now that I've learned the secret of controlled speed—the overhand delivery—I ought to get some place."

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

If there are wrestling fans who think that Ali Hassan was a set-up for George Hill last night, it might interest them to know that Hassan gave Ed Strangler Lewis, world's champion, a considerable argument a few weeks ago. Hassan fought off the champ for 43 minutes before he succumbed to a headlock. Hassan is Mahmoud's training partner, and he said the local man would give Mahmoud a terrific fight. He also said Hill is about as good a wrestler as any in the country.

It is to laugh. Carl Zoll, the Green Bay heavyweight who lost to George Hill here early in the season, had the temerity to challenge the winner of last night's bout. Carl's reception when he climbed up to the ring was anything but friendly, indicating his stock is slightly below par in Appleton. Perhaps he had a hunch that this was Hill's last match this season when he hurled his challenge.

There is a shortage of ball players. Sounds strange but it is true so far as organized baseball is concerned. Industrial ball is a pretty good paying proposition these days and many of the leaguers have jumped into soft factory jobs which call for baseball as a side line. Between the two "positions" they make as much if not more than some of the high salaried individuals on the diamond. What's more they are working the whole year around. This is quite an advantage in these "jobless" days.

Strangler Lewis bit off too big a chunk to swallow the other night in New York, when he attempted to throw a collegiate grappler, Carpenter, in 20 minutes. This collegiate who hails from Augusta, Ga. stepped lively while he was toiling with Lewis and the big fellow soon discovered that he was up against something out of the ordinary in the wrestling game. Evidently, young Mr. Carpenter must have picked up something else in the course of his education except book knowledge.

President Heydler has returned from his first swing around the National League circuit and reports everything looking "rosy." According to Heydler, the national game got off to the best start in history and that it was up to the players and managers to finish it as well as they began. This is pretty sound advice. Baseball is on trial this season and if everything comes through all right, less chance there will be for the knackers to harp back on the 1919 scandal.

MONTREAL-HERMAN BOUT IS TO BE INVESTIGATED

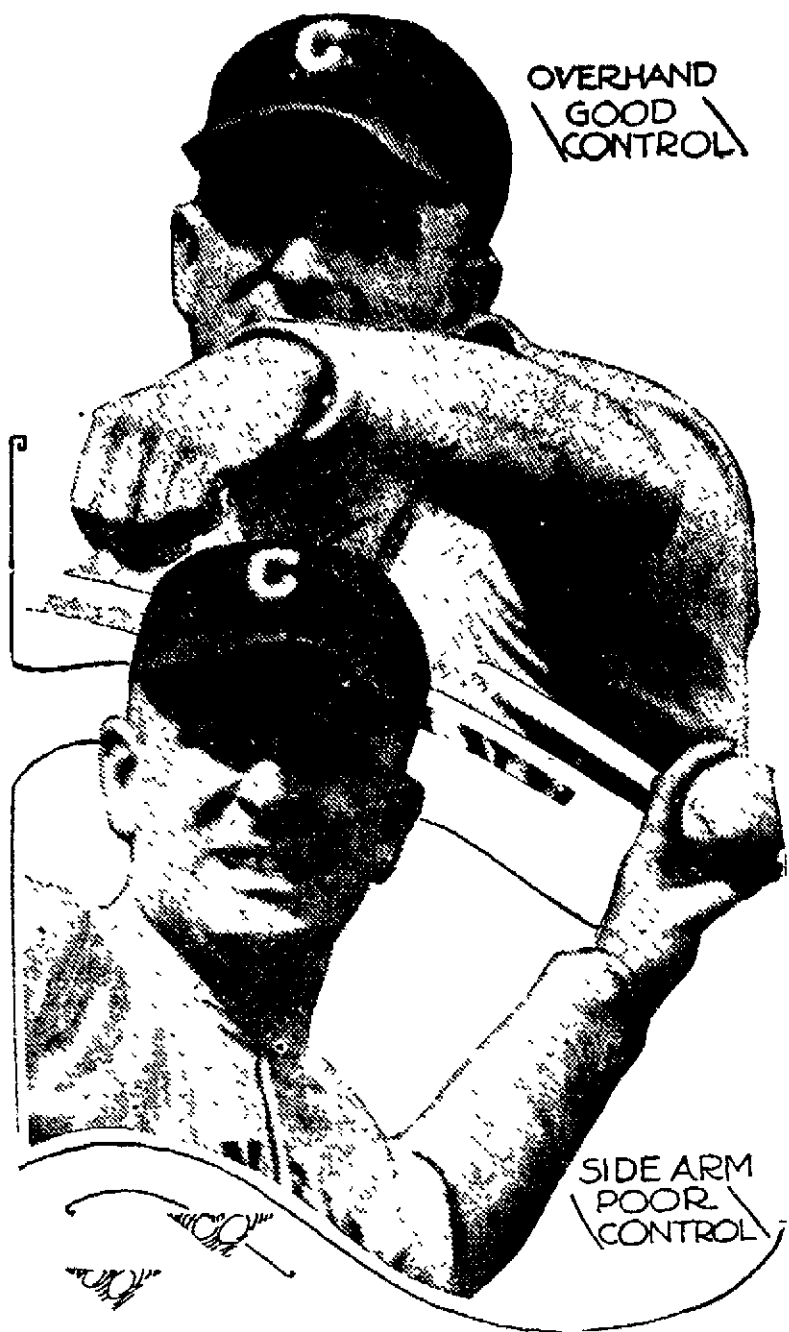

By United Press Leased Wire. Boston, Mass.—The Massachusetts state boxing commission will begin an investigation into the recent Young Montreal-Peter Herman fight "within a few days," it was announced Thursday.

The commission will hold public hearings, it was said. The date of the first hearing will be announced Thursday.

Lewis Sullivan and W. T. McDerrott, the two judges who gave the decision to Montreal, will be the first witnesses to be heard. Sullivan demanded that the commission hold a public hearing in view of reports that the bout was "fixed."

The boxing commission will also issue subpoenas for several local men who are said to have been "talking about the bout," it was stated.

Temperature rises an average of one degree for every 60 feet of descent through the crust of the earth.

Picture shows Walter Mails, star southpaw of the Cleveland Indians, demonstrating how he has acquired control. He walks 'em when he throws side arms (bottom). He strikes 'em out with the overhand pitch (top).

BAD WEATHER PUTS CRIMP IN MAJORS

Expensive Training Trips Made Almost Worthless by Weather Man.

By United Press Leased Wire. New York—Due to the wide assortment in the weather man's repertoire the major leaguers have had a tough time getting away and some of the clubs with old blood are back almost where they were before they went south.

In the first week of the 1921 jaunt the Pirates, the Robins the Reds, the Braves and the Senators were the only ones to get in seven games. The White Sox and the Tigers were able to labor only four days.

Brooklyn is perched next to the last hole in the National league ledger. The chilly weather has put all of Roby's pitchers on the ineffective list.

Miller Huggins has his Yankees on top of the American league pile but he is there chiefly because Carl Mays is in form. Shawkey and Host two of his "chibbles" are waiting for the hot weather.

Several days of hot sun would also help the veteran pitchers of the Giants. McGraw is holding the front line but he will have to get better pitching to keep back the Pittsburgh Pirates who have a trio of hurriers working in mid-season form.

Along with his fragile infield Tim Lincecum is also having pitching troubles. Coveleske and Bagby are not in form and Duster Mails expected to be a big winner, is having trouble getting started.

Conner Mack is also having pitching troubles. George McBride, however, probably will wish the affection to be "com" permanent on Mack because the Senators copped the series from the Athletics and are holding forth in second place.

KONETCHY'S SINGLE WINS FOR ROBINS, 4-2

Philadelphia—Konetchy's single, which took a fraak bound over J. Miller's shoulder, won two out in the eighth, scored two runs for Brooklyn and won a pitchers' battle between George Smith and Sherrod Smith.

Philadelphia's third home run in three consecutive games came in the first inning with Rawling on base giving Philadelphia its two runs.

Score: Brooklyn.....000100012-4 Philadelphia.....200000000-2

Batters: Brooklyn—S. Smith and Miller. Boston—G. Smith and Brugg.

HILL MAKES BIG HIT WITH FANS BY HIS CLEVER WORK

Grappler Made Possible an Interesting Sports Season for Appleton.

Last night's wrestling bout in Armory G. when George Hill won from Ali Hassan in two straight falls closed one of the most interesting winter athletic seasons in Appleton's history. It is doubtful if ever before fans have been offered so much high class entertainment as this year. They showed their appreciation by turning out in large numbers to the bouts and would probably have established a new attendance record for wrestling matches here if Mahmoud could have kept his engagement.

Success of the wrestling season was due largely to the fact that Hill really is a wonderful wrestler and to the way the bouts were arranged. Promoter Elmer Johnston tried his best to obtain worthy opponents for the local man and he played fair with the fans. When he promptly offered to refund all money paid for tickets to the Mahmoud-Hill match he proved that he wanted the fans just what he said he would give them.

Mahmoud's failure to come here was a serious disappointment to Hill. He had trained faithfully for three weeks to be in the best possible condition for the bout and was confident of defeating him. It would have been a fitting climax to a successful season.

Hill took part in 27 wrestling matches since the start of the season and won 24 of them. His only losses were to Earl Caddock in Fort Dodge, Iowa in December; to Paul Martinson in their first meeting here and he lost a handicap match to Henry Stoff in Oshkosh when he failed to throw him twice in an hour. Stoff fought a defensive battle and lost one fall in 37 minutes. Hill won all but one of his matches here and he more than evened up the score with Martinson.

Hill wrestled in ten matches here. He defeated the following men: Istock, Winters, Zoll, Romanoff, Rogers, Martinson, Orlando, German Oak and Hassan. He lost only three falls one to Romanoff and two to Martinson. He was injured in the first Martinson bout after winning the first fall and was unable to go back for the third try.

Of late there has been an impression in Appleton that Hill and Earl Caddock are one and the same person. Nothing could be more ridiculous. It was rumored that every time Caddock had a match Hill was out of town and straightway it was claimed that Hill was Caddock. These "dopesters" apparently forgot that Hill wrestled Caddock in Fort Dodge last December and it is a cinch that Hill would have quite a job wrestling himself. An effort was made to arrange a match with Caddock to close the season but the former champion apparently was not eager to meet the local man and made conditions for the match prohibitive.

Hill is leaving Appleton with a lot of friends who will welcome him back next fall. He is a good wrestler and a real fellow. Unlike a lot of wrestlers, he takes splendid care of himself, is careful of his company and proved that a wrestler can "be a man for all of that."

HAYWOOD FLEES TO DODGE PRISON

Washington where we asked political amnesty for our convicted leaders and we were given assurance of consideration. "If Haywood, the leader, has broken on faith, it will hurt the chances of amnesty of every political prisoner in the United States."

Haywood's Name Not On List

New York—The Oscar II, upon which "Big Bill" Haywood is alleged to have fled from this country, did not carry the name of the I. W. W. leader on its passenger list, it was learned from officials of the Scandinavian-American line here Thursday. For that reason, it was believed Haywood sailed under an assumed name and possibly in disguise.
